Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from First Reports of the Bureau of Archives: For the Province of Ontario The documents appertaining to the history of a country are now classed among its most valuable possessions. But history has assumed a new meaning with the advance of civilization, and, to-day, the Records of Government, once the student s richest mine, share their importance with the ephemeral memorabilia which concern the life of the people. The historian s point of view has undergone a radical change. A knowledge of the social conditions of a nation is a first requisite to the study or writing of history; hence the high value now placed upon family papers, diaries, account books, etc., which contain the humble records of social and family life. This change has arisen naturally from the gradual widening of the political suffrage, and its reaction upon legislation. The laws reflect the public needs, and in order to legislate wisely and intelligently, the social atmosphere and environment, the sequences in social development, must be known. Hence also the importance of documentary history in which...
