Excerpt: . paused without.1 It is not needful to decide which of the two examples is the better: but certainly promptitude is one of the many excellent gifts which we ought to covet. Reverting now to the earlier of the two Collects we find a distinction drawn between gifts and graces. We pray there that we may not be left destitute of God s manifold gifts, nor yet of grace to use them alway to His honour and glory. It is a most important distinction. All talents, all opportunities, are His gifts: but all such gifts may be in vain: from Him must come the grace to use them aright. 1 John xx. 6. VII. COLLECT FOR THE SEVENTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY. THE DIVINE GIVER OF ALL GOOD. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. --James i. 17. HERE are some of our Collects in which a large amount of history is imbedded. One such instance has been indicated above in the case of the Third Collect for Good Friday: and it is not improbable that our own times may yet furnish some illustrations of the extreme interest connected with the mention of the Turks in that prayer. We have another instance now brought close to us in one of the Collects which will be used during the present month, on the Seventh Sunday after...
