Among those who shared in the benefit of this overflow, was a young lady who, though an earnest Christian, had never taken special interest in foreign missions. Her mother was heart and soul in Woman s Board work; and the daughter had never doubted that it was a very good enterprise, but it was one that did not specially concern her. After a few conversations with the visitor, however, the matter wore a different aspect. Foreign missions seemed to take a definite, important, necessary place in Christian work; she began to think it was something that could not be thrust aside any more than her duties to her church or her favorite city charities. It began to appear to her not as a question of preference or pleasure, but a question of duty, to be conscientiously considered. Ought she not, ought not her young friends, to take an interest in, and have a share in, the great work? As she thought of it more and more, the feeling grew to a strong conviction, which gave her courage to speak to others. Can t we have a young ladies missionary society in our church? Don t you think we ought to have one? she asked of one and another; and her enthusiasm was so earnest and so genuine that her friends caught its...
